SGA Gains Control of Breeze

Action taken Friday, September 10, by the Student Government Association here insured that organization's control over Madison's weekly newspaper publication, The Breeze.

A majority vote of the Senate on an emergency action proposal incorporated The Breeze within the S.G.A. as a subcommittee of the Communications Committee. The Communications Committee now has full charge over selection or dismissal of the Editor and the Staff. The committee also gained full control of the financial aspects of The Breeze.

The proposal included an essential provision making all new powers temporary until The Breeze is "properly reorganized."

WELCOME FRESHMEN

PRESIDENT CARRIER ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Once again, Madison College opens its doors for a new year. I am pleased to welcome those of you who were already members of the College community back to the campus, and I am especially pleased to welcome the surge of new faces, new personalities, and new ideas represented by students new to the campus. Madison College offers you the opportunity to make your experience at Madison whatever you wish it to be, and, as a result, you will have the responsibility to define the person you want to be--the values you want to live by--the life style you want to adopt. Recognize the opportunity that Madison College is giving you, continue to open your minds to the new ideas and feelings around you which can help you build your life. Take advantage of the programs open to you, extra-curricular as well as classroom. Examine them and decide what you value.

I expressed my belief at Freshman Convocation that we are involved in an education partnership with you. We can assist each other by spending time together, assisting each other through closer personal contact. I recommend that you get to know the faculty and staff. Our primary purpose for being here is the student. I am sure you will find a receptive partner in the learning effort.

I have great pride in Madison College and in you. I hope you will share this pride. Let's all have a good year!

Rule Changes in Women's Curfew

This summer a letter was sent to the parents of resident women under the age of twenty-one concerning an "extended curfew" plan. In order to be eligible for the "extended curfew" plan, (1) a resident woman student under the age of twenty-one must obtain the signature of her parents on the permission card which accompanied the letter and (2) a fee of $10 must be paid. Women students over twenty-one married must pay the fee to be eligible. The permission card will be placed on file in the office of Student Affairs. Beginning September 14, 1971, women students may pay the $10 fee to the Treasurer's office. This fee is for the entire year and is not refundable. A list of those women students participating in the "extended curfew" program will be sent to each dorm. The "extended curfew" program will go into effect on the night of Sunday, September 19, 1971. The program will work in the following manner: there will be a security guard on patrol on both the front and back campus. A student desiring admittance to a dorm after the closing hour should wait at her dorm until a security officer arrives. The security officer will ask for the student's I.D. After having seen the student's I.D., the security officer will admit the student through the front door of the dorm. The security officer will put the student's name on a roster which will be turned into the office of Student Affairs. Beginning September 14, 1971, the office of Student Affairs will be checked against the list of participants in the "extended curfew" plan. The names of students who violate curfew by returning to the dorm after the closing hour and do not have permission to participate in the "extended curfew" plan will be turned into the Judicial Council of the Student Government Association for appropriate action. The S.G.A. will send a letter to the parents of the student violating the curfew.

Registered guests of women students on the "extended curfew" plan must obtain a temporary guest I.D. for admittance to the dorm. The temporary guest I.D. will be signed by the guest, a dormitory staff member, and the hostess responsible for the guest with the effective dates.

The parents of freshmen women students who fail to achieve a quality rating of 2.0 will receive a letter from the Director of Student Affairs suggesting their parents reconsider their daughter's curfew.

The curfew for students not participating in the "extended curfew" program is 1 a.m. on Sunday-Thursday and 2 a.m. on Friday and Saturday.

KEY SYSTEM

The problem of allowing women on "extended curfew" back into their dorm after it is locked is a serious one. Because of this seriousness, the Buildings and Grounds Safety and Security Committee of the SGA has come up with an alternate proposal.

The key system is basically allowing the woman to have a key to enter her dorm. Since the question was raised as to possible loss of the key, a system of rules was made to offset this.

The Security office would house the necessary keys to a particular dorm. The girl would present her I.D. and the dispatcher records her number beside the coded number of a key. She then goes to her dorm and lets herself in. A box will be stationed immediately past the entrance where the keys may be returned. The Security Police opens the dorm at 6 a.m. and checks the keys against the master list. is
